Just spoke with both of them. They are very angry, hurt, disappointed and distrustful of our process now. They were led to believe their criteria was our criteria in crunching numbers that led to their "solution" (that even I got excited about again) that was based on gross, that they rolled out for us the other day. They feel very deceived.

I apologized profusely - and I PROMISED we'd grant their request that their scenerios WOULD BE run through all the same tests we used. I promised them this.

Beth also still has heartburn over deduction language- I told her Joe would work with her on any specific concerns there and we'd help plug in a better solution if there is one.

Please grant their request Pat. Have your folks run their numbers, work with Beth on this- she wants to trust us and I want to work with her. Pls let me know how that goes...

I've heard nothing from Joe or the writing team, and have no idea if drafts are in the works. So I am apologetically sending my thoughts to you directly, as I don't know if something with my name on it will see the light of day otherwise.

Unfortunately, today is a disaster -- big things exploding in my oil and gas world, so this was a major rush job. And I will not breach surface until tonight. But here are my thoughts, for what they are worth, based upon your original draft.

something like this... and I know it's harsh and hard - but tweak it please while retaining the tone... Privileged or Personal Material Redacted. Beth and Sharon - pls keep me in the loop as this is being tweaked, and pls coordinate the effort so we're not all stepping on each other through the process.

Ok boss, Pat and I are getting nervous that you haven't responded or provided any feedback. If you don't like our approach, we can go back to the drawing board tonight. Tomorrow will be a busy day, though, and we want to get it in for Friday.

MESSAGE:

Dearest Sarah,

Imagine my suprise when I found out that you had been elected to be the Governor of Alaska! Wow! It really is true that you've come a long way, baby. I hope you don't still hold a grudge for my editorial cartoons in the Frontiersman. Had I known you were running for Governor, believe it or not, I would've certainly offered my artistic services in your favor. You might think that I was more of an adversary but in reality, I was very pleased with you as the Mayor of Wasilla. The last Governor I knew personally, was Jay Hammond.

If anyone were to ask me if I felt YOU were qualified to be Alaska's Governor, I would have answered with a resounding yes. I just wanted to write you and tell you that I am delighted to hear of your successful bid for Governor and I hope you will remain as such for a very long time.

My most sincere wishes for your successful tenure.

Sincerely,

Jim Bettis
